To the Editor—The pretty blue-and-red graphic on the cover of the November/December 2012 issue of the NCMJ may look great to the untrained eye, but whoever drew the courses of the arteries should have their artistic license revoked! Since when do webs of arteries cross the cerebral midline? And does the innominate artery really come off the right atrium?? There are other anatomical errors that are too numerous to count.

If we are going to have a serious medical journal in North Carolina, let us get serious about anatomy! NCMJ

James Stewart Campbell, MD
owner, MEDesign, Pfafftown, North Carolina.

Acknowledgment
Potential conflicts of interest. J.S.C. has no relevant conflicts of interest.

Electronically published April 16, 2013.
Address correspondence to Dr. James Stewart Campbell, 3705 Sapona Tr, Pfafftown, NC 27040 (medesign.us@gmail.com).
N C Med J. 2013;74(2):172. ©2013 by the North Carolina Institute of Medicine and The Duke Endowment. All rights reserved.
0029-2559/2013/74217